

Ekho is a communication platform that encourages two way messaging between retail associates and their customers in their preferred messaging channel.

USING TWO-WAY COMMUNICATIONS

Two-way communications

All of our messages are two-way enabled! We want to support all of the popular forms of messaging so that users don't have to switch contexts.

Benefits

CRM

We integrate into existing CRM's and can enable very specific targeting of customers making a message feel as personal as possible.

One place

Retail associates can communicate to all consumers through all channels from a single application.

Dashboard

We measure every possible metric to ensure we are providing value and creating the right features for our clients.
